Timothy Rishton, organist of the Collegiate Church of Holyhead, was trained at Reading and Manchester Universities, and now works at the University of Wales. A busy recitalist throughout Britain and Northern Europe, he has given recitals in cathedrals, universities, London's Royal College of Organists, and in many foreign countries. He has recorded for Sain and Wealden, has a new album in preparation, and broadcasts regularly on radio and television. Next week he departs for a three-week recital tour of Scandinavia and the Arctic.
